

Educator Quick Start Guide

Welcome to the new Cisco Networking Academy learning platform! This guide is to help instructors transition to the new NetAcad.com

1

A New Platform

2

Quick Navigation

3

Legacy Classes

4

Create new Classes

5

Resources

1

A New Platform

SkillsForAll.com and NetAcad.com have converged into one unified platform bringing you:

- Innovative, interactive learning experiences, mobile first design and student-centric courses.
- New Instructor experience with flexibility for customizations and hybrid teaching approaches.

Watch overview video for more →

2

Quick Navigation

- Choose your Academy and role on the top bar. Look for the Academy icon
- Go to My Classes to create new classes and manage them.
- Select Assignments to view upcoming assignments for all your classes.
- Browse Educator Resources to find course resources, videos, marketing materials, and more.
- Click on your name to see profile options.

3

Where are my Legacy classes?

For classes created on Legacy NetAcad.com (before 23 August 2024), click on the legacy tab at the top to navigate to the legacy experience. Legacy classes must end no later than 23 February 2025. The legacy experience for instructors and students will remain during this transitional period only.

4

Creating a new class

Go to My Classes and click on Create button to create a new class. Follow the steps which include choosing the course, default language, start and end date, adding instructors, customizing the enrollment page and enabling Class Messaging with Webex for your class.

← Watch the demo video to see how

5

Resources

Refer to the Convergence Hub page for important information related to the transition to the new platform. To access the full library of resources from My Classes, click the Educator Resources button. Refer to the How to Guide for detailed information or search for the How To videos to learn about specific functionalities of the new platform.

Building a next-generation teaching experience

This fresh modern web experience offers a comprehensive learning experience, streamlined class creation, and improved communication tools, and sets the foundation for many more exciting features and innovations to come. If you experience any issues, please use the virtual assistant or contact your Academy Support Center (ASC).

